History of the Conflict between Religion and Science.

By JOHN W. DRAPER, M.D., Author of "The Intellectual Development of Europe." 1 vol. 12mo, cloth, $1.75. Forming one of the "International Scientific Series."

A correspondent, who has had the opportunity of examining the advance pages of Prof. John W. Draper's forthcoming book on "Religion and Science," writes us a brief sketch of his impressions concerning its character: "I have read with absorbing interest the proof-sheets of Dr. Draper's new work, 'A History of the Conflict between Religion and Science.' The account of this great struggle, I believe, has never before been written; but the work has now been done by a master, and the subject is placed in a very different light from that in which it has been usually regarded. Those who think that Dr. Draper's book consists merely of the resuscitated vestiges of an obsolete controversy will make a grave mistake. He not only explains the intellectual character of the contest, but he traces its immense issues; and, so far from being a mere chronicle of polemics, his book is rather a study of the dynamics of ideas as they have controlled the course of great public events for 2000 years. Dr. Draper uses his terms in the large historic sense, as representing great phases of human experience. By 'religion' he means those vast systems of doctrine, putting forth supernatural and infallible claims, and using governments in this world, as well as the terrors of the world to come, to repress all independent inquiry. By 'science' he understands not merely certain forms of knowledge, but the free study of Nature, the rights of reason, the untrammelled pursuit of truth; and by 'conflict' Dr. Draper means the protracted war of these opposing systems—that antagonism of fundamental ideas which has embroiled society for ages, and led to the most terrible consequences. The conflict of which he treats has been a mighty tragedy of humanity that has dragged nations into its vortex and involved the fate of empires. The work, though small, is full of instruction regarding the rise of the great ideas of science and philosophy; and he describes, in an impressive manner and with dramatic effect, the way religious authority has employed the secular power to obstruct the progress of knowledge and crush out the spirit of investigation. The decay of the religious faith of Greece and Rome, the rise of Christianity and its transformation on attaining imperial power, the conflicts that rent the Church, the advent of Mohammedanism and its influence upon theology and science, the controversies respecting the government of the world—the solar system—the antiquity of the earth and of man, and the relation of Latin Christianity to modern civilization, are treated by Dr. Draper with great skill of statement and originality of view. While there is not in his book a word of disrespect for things sacred, he writes with a directness of speech, and a vividness of characterization and an unflinching fidelity to the facts, which show him to be in thorough earnest with his work. The 'History of the Conflict between Religion and Science' is a fitting sequel to the 'History of the Intellectual Development of Europe,' and will add to its author's already high reputation as a philosophic historian."—New-York Tribune, October 23d.

MESSRS. JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO.'S New Books.

Childhood Songs.

By LUCY LARCOM. Small 4to. Beautifully illustrated. $2.25.

All the poems in this delightful volume are original, and many of them now appear for the first time. Miss Larcom has not only the soul of a poet, but the most profound and tender sympathy with childhood; and in this book she sings to the hearts of children and their parents as well. This fresh and beautiful volume ought to be in great request as a Holiday Book.

The Flower People.

By MRS. HORACE MANN. New Edition. Illustrated by Mrs. Rose Lathrop. Square 16mo. $1.50.

A new edition of an ingenious and every way attractive volume.

"'The Flower People' is a graceful little book in which the Snowdrops, the Crocuses, the Violets, the Anemones, the Hyacinths, the Tulips, the May-Flowers, the Roses, and all Flora's beautiful daughters are introduced as conversing with little Mary, and imparting to her their lessons of wisdom and love. We earnestly commend Mrs. Mann's modest work to every true-hearted, clear-sighted educationist and parent."—Christian Inquirer.

Tennyson's Poems.

New Edition, from entirely new plates. In two octavo volumes. Including the Author's latest revisions and emendations, with two poems not before embraced in any American edition of his works. Handsomely bound. $6.

READY SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28.

Ten Days in Spain.

By KATE FIELD. With illustrations. 1 vol. 18mo. Saunterer's Series. $1.50.

This tasteful little book, in the popular Saunterer's Series, contains the observations made by Miss Field, during a tour in Spain, on the people, social habits, political ideas, on Castelar and others, then conspicuous in the government, and on whatever would attract the notice of so acute an observer. The style is very fresh and readable, and the little book is one of more than transient interest.

Echoes of the Foot-Hills.

A new volume of Poems. By BRET HARTE. 1 vol. 16mo. $1.50.

This volume includes the poems he has written since his book "East and West Poems" appeared. It is rich in those unique qualities which have given Bret Harte his world-wide fame.

LONGFELLOW'S NEW POEM.

The Hanging of the Crane.

Superbly illustrated from designs by Miss HALLOCK and THOMAS MORAN, engraved by A. V. S. ANTHONY and W. J. LINTON. Tastefully bound in cloth, $5; morocco antique, $9.

"One of the most beautifully illustrated books ever published in Boston."—Advertiser.

"Beautiful as are the thoughts of the poet, let us give honor to whom honor is due, and confess that what makes the book unique is its illustrations. It seems to me that nothing equal to them for ideal grace and charm has ever before adorned an American book."—MRS. L. C. MOULTON, in New-York Tribune.

Hazel-Blossoms.

By J. G. WHITTIER. Full-page picture. $1.50.

"The vigor, purity, and sweetness of Whittier's poetry were never more conspicuously or attractively manifested than in this volume. It is thoroughly delightful, and must be in demand as an inexpensive and choice gift-book the coming Holiday season."

Little Classics.

Vol. IV., LIFE, containing "Rab and his Friends," "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "My Chateaux," by G. W. CURTIS; and other Stories and Sketches by HOWELLS, WILLIS, HAWTHORNE, "IK MARVEL," LAMB, MACAULAY, and others, ending with the sublime little classic of LINCOLN'S Gettysburg Speech. $1.

LITTLE CLASSICS: I. EXILE; II. INTELLECT; III. TRAGEDY. $1 each.

"Mr. Jewitt's volume is not only an ornament to any table, but is good reading to boot, and in this double quality is entitled to rank as a GIFT-BOOK OF THE FIRST ORDER."—London Times.

"This volume contains 210 exquisite wood engravings. . . . Is a beautifully illustrated and entertaining work."—London Graphic.

THE COTTER'S SATURDAY NIGHT.

By ROBERT BURNS. Beautifully illustrated by forty-seven exquisite engravings, drawn by Chapman and engraved by Filmer. Printed on the finest toned and laid plate paper by Ashmead. Small 4to, cloth, black and gold, gilt edges, $4; Turkey morocco, gilt edges, $8.

SOUTH MEADOWS.

A Tale of Long Ago. By E. T. DISOSWAY. 12mo, cloth, black and gold $1.50.

This work, by a new writer, is written with a skill and a dramatic power that will command wide attention. It deals with the days of witchcraft in New-England, and is noteworthy for its vividness and the delicacy of its characterization. It gives a very realistic picture of the religious society of the time.

NOTES IN SEASON.

"ISMAILIA," Sir Samuel Baker's new book, is nearly ready at the Harpers', and with its vivacious text and capital illustrations is sure to be one of the most popular books of travel on their popular list. The "Wild Animals," by Wolf, which is their holiday book, is one of the finest works which has come from their press.

D. APPLETON & Co., New-York, will publish, early in the month, Dr. Draper's important work on "The History of the Conflicts between Religion and Science." It is a lucid and philosophical historical narrative of the relations between the Church and science from the earliest days, and coming apropos of the discussion which Tyndall's Belfast Address has made, will be exceptionally timely in its issue, and will prove a book that every thinker must read for himself.

A NEW poem by Rev. E. F. Burr, D.D., well known as the author of several religious works, is shortly to be issued by Nelson & Phillips, with many illustrations, which will make it appropriate as a holiday volume. Its title is "The Voyage; or, The Song of the Sea, and other Poems," and it will make an octavo volume, in handsome binding.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS announce the plan of a series of biographical works, which will be edited by Colonel T. W. Higginson. They are intended to meet the want of libraries and general readers, by giving information as to the current statesmanship and politics of England. The first volume, for instance, will probably include sketches of Gladstone, Disraeli, Forster, Bright, and Derby; the second, half a dozen or more "English Radical Leaders;" and others will sketch the politics of Spain, France, Russia, etc., by this same geographical method. These books, which have been planning for some time, are quite distinct in character from the series which is announced by Messrs. Holt, which will be a history of the several arts and sciences, in the shape of sketches of the men who have contributed to their progress.

The Proposed Book Fair.

CIRCULAR FROM THE COMMITTEE OF THE A. B. T. A.

At the annual meeting of the American Book-Trade Association, held at Put-in Bay in July last, a committee was appointed with power to establish a semi-annual book fair, to take the place of the present trade sale. At this fair it was contemplated that publishers should offer special terms to the trade, but that the auction element should be discontinued or greatly modified.

The great objects to be secured by the proposed book fair are: 1st. A general assembling of the book trade from all parts of the country once or twice a year. It is believed that every bookseller ought to visit the large publishing marts at least once a year, in order that he may keep fully posted on all new books, and thus be able to conduct his business in an intelligent and enterprising manner.

The book fair must present attractions and inducements sufficient to make it for the interest of every bookseller to attend. If the bookseller and publisher can thus come face to face once or twice a year, each will stimulate in the other a spirit of enterprise.

2d. Some mode of selling books must be fixed on which will not force on the market a large number of books which are not wanted, and which are sold at prices ruinous to the publisher, and in turn are used by the purchaser (who finds them dead stock) to break down regular prices to consumers.

Can these results be accomplished? Many difficulties are in the way, and the committee desire to avail themselves of the best plans which may have been thought out by any bookseller or publisher.

The committee will meet Thursday, January 7th, 1875, before which time we would ask any and all who have given thought to this matter, to forward their plans to the committee, giving in a clear and distinct form their ideas in detail of any plan which they think could be successfully carried out.

It is of the first importance that the wants of the trade be fully met in this matter, or success can not be expected.

WM. H. APPLETON,
Chairman.

The other members of the Committee are A. S. Barnes and Isaac E. Sheldon, of New-York; Wm. Lee, of Boston; J. B. Lippincott, of Philadelphia; General McClurg, of Chicago, and Martin Taylor, of Buffalo; to any of whom communications on this subject can be addressed.

At Last.

AT last we are able to say that the book-trade reform is no longer a matter "i' the air," but is written down definitely in black and white. The energetic efforts of the committee, consisting of Messrs. Randolph, Dodd, and W. S. Appleton, of New-York, last week, resulted in their procuring nearly every signature desired in New-York to the twenty per cent rule, and with this document in hand the committee went at once to Boston, and met the trade in a meeting, of which a report, furnished by the secretary, has already been printed in our columns. The Boston brethren were a little skeptical before the meeting commenced, but that brought forth such thoroughly good talk, especially on the part of Mr. Campbell, of Boston, and gave such a thorough airing to the question, that those who came to scoff remained to sign; and we can fairly say that the trade of New-York and New-England are now in harmony on this important basis. There was a good deal of reason to fear that the Boston people would hold back from the reform, chiefly for the reason that each one proposed to sign only on condition that somebody else signed first. This difficulty, however, was swept away in the course of the meeting at the Parker House, and even those whom it was thought would be most backward in falling into line were ready enough to sign before the gathering dispersed. This twenty per cent rule which New-York and New-England have now adopted is really the vital matter in the present movement. It is the one basis, and the only basis, on which, in the present state of the trade, all interests can be brought together and welded into an organization which can from that platform work together in future for the more thorough improvement of the trade.

It now remains for Philadelphia to do likewise with Boston and New-York. The whole question now centres in that city, and the responsibility of making or breaking the American book trade rests virtually with the heads of the trade in the city of brotherly love. We trust this new era of fraternity in the book trade will not be broken down in a city whose name is so prophetic of helpful association. It is not only the interest of others, but an enlightened self-interest, which should induce Philadelphia to come up to the standard of the other cities in this matter. It has here its opportunity to earn the gratitude of the whole American trade by coming promptly forward at this juncture, or else to put itself in opposition to all the rest of the trade, by refusing to do what for its own interests and others' it ought. It is proposed to call a meeting of the Philadelphia book trade next week, or soon after, and we trust that by that time the dealers of Philadelphia will be so reasoned with in love, or will so profitably meditate by themselves, that they will be ready to join heart and hand in the reform with which all but themselves are so thoroughly associated.

WE call the especial attention of the trade to the announcement printed elsewhere of the committee on Book Fair, of the A. B. T. A. It is of the utmost importance that this committee, before it meets, should have the fullest suggestions from all the members of the trade, as to the reform desired in this direction, and the best methods of organizing such a Fair. The general reform can not be carried through, unless the trade-sales are satisfactorily reorganized into some such Fair as that contemplated; and the present undertaking can not be a success unless the trade at large take part in it, and offer their best advice.

THE Board of School Directors of Galveston, Texas, have taken the work of bookselling into their own hands, in the most remarkable way. As a certain firm of that city had made the lowest bid for supplying books to their schools, they decided that no advertisements of any other house should be permitted in any of the schools. The opposition booksellers consider this a curious misuse of the law; and we certainly agree with them, that an attempt of any school authorities to influence the patronage of scholars in the direction of any one bookseller rather than another, is quite beyond the duties of their position, and should meet with severe rebuke.

THE editor of the London Bookseller is certainly a man of singularly impartial mind, when he is able to give such praise as he gives, in the last number, to an American reprint of an English work. He has just seen the well-known edition of Smith's Bible Dictionary, edited by Prof. Hackett and Dr. Abbot, and published by Hurd and Houghton: The Riverside Press; and after enumerating the points in which it is superior to the original edition, closes with the words: "In short, it seems that we have to thank America for the most complete work of the kind in the English, or, indeed, in any other language."

BOOKS RECEIVED.

A RAMBLE ROUND THE WORLD, by Baron de Hübner, translated by Lady Herbert. (Macmillan & Co.) In the space of eight months, Baron Hübner accomplished a journey making the complete circuit of the globe, starting from New-York, going westward, taking Washington on the way, visiting the important cities west, Salt Lake City, and so on, finally arriving at San Francisco. From here he took steamer for Yokohama, afterwards going to the ports of Japan and China open to strangers. In the short time allowed him for each place he has used his eyes wonderfully well, as his work gives the most thorough descriptions of the present aspect of the towns and people on his line of travel. 12mo, cloth, $2.50.

MARIA MONK'S DAUGHTER, by Mrs. L. St. John Eckel. (U. S. Publishing Co.) This is the most wonderful confession by a lady ever given to the public. One might think that living and moving still in society, as she does, she would have hesitated to draw the attention of the world to the terrible family history she so graphically describes, and to the details of her own not too immaculate life, which she paints with a complacency and assumed religious fervor which, to say the least, is funny. But as the work is written avowedly in the cause of religion, we suppose criticism of any sort will be considered unjust; but we must put in a protest, as we fail to see how the exposure of a dead mother's name to infamy, and the gross details of a fair woman's peccadilloes, which often appear to border upon the verge of sin, can aid any one towards a higher or better life. The fair authoress, it seems, is now a light of the Roman Catholic Church, and gives her experiences of life, so she says, to show that a heart, however depraved, may be made pure and good. Viewing the work aside from a moral stand-point, we can say it is a literary effort of no mean pretension, and as piquant a collection of chronique scandaleuse as ever emanated from the pen of a Madame Du Barri. As such we dare say it will find many readers, as it offers an inducement which this wicked sinner's works do not possess—viz., that its perusal is leading the heart to God, an impression which the authoress endeavors to convey from the first chapter to the last. 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

UNDER THE SOUTHERN CROSS, by the author of "The Spanish Brothers." (Nelson & Sons.) A story of Peru and the last of the Incas. It possesses a semi-religious tone, and tells of the mission of a monk, "Fray Fernando," among the degraded natives of Cerro Blanco. 12mo, cloth, $2.

THE SEA-SIDE HOME and The Smugglers' Cave, by Emilia Marryat Norris. (Pott, Young & Co.) Two children, Philip and Ethel Clare, lived in a pretty cottage by the sea-side. They had many fine times and adventures; one of their adventures consisted of wandering away and getting lost, and having to spend the night all alone in a cave. An interesting book for a boy or girl. 16mo, cloth, $1.

CLEFTS OF THE ROCK, by J. R. Macduff. (Robert Carter & Brothers.) The object of this little work is to set forth the leading grounds of safety and security, comfort and peace, which are to be found in the character and completed work of the Divine Redeemer. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

OUR CHILDREN, How to Rear and Train them. (Cassell, Petter & Galpin.) A little manual of counsels and suggestions for the use of parents in the physical, educational, religious, and moral training of their children. 12mo, cloth, gilt-edged, $3.

A WINTER IN RUSSIA, by Théophile Gautier, translated by M. M. Ripley. (Henry Holt & Co.) It is refreshing to meet with a work that one can praise unreservedly, like the above. It is not the mere skeleton of a book, as so many works of travel are—a mass of uninteresting personal details, and dry bits of information; but presents a succession of such vivid and picturesque sketches of St. Petersburg and Moscow in the winter season that they seem like scenes in Fairyland—they are drawn by so bold a pencil, and so enriched by a true artist's sight and imagination. Gautier's language loses nothing either in the translation, which is an unexceptionally good one. 12mo, cloth, $2.

MR. GEORGE P. PHILES, M.A., the well-known bibliophile, has succeeded the late Mr. Henry Kernot at Scribner's, and will hereafter be found at the desk long made pleasant to all book-buyers by Uncle Harry. Mr. Philes is now at work upon two important volumes, one intended as a student's guide to American literature, from the first settlement of America to the present time; the other, a dictionary of anonymous and pseudonymous American authors, including also works by foreigners relative to the history of North-America, with biographical and critical notes.

LITERARY AND TRADE NEWS.

WE call attention to the advertisement of Mr. A. H. Clark, of Poughkeepsie, in another column. It is worth the while of all dealers who have school-books on their shelves as dead stock, to consider his plans for resurrecting them into salable goods. A similar plan for facilitating the exchange of miscellaneous books through the columns of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, suggested some time ago, will be proposed after the holidays.

WE would call attention to an advertisement in our columns of a subscription-book publishing business for sale, belonging to a party lately deceased. It can be purchased on very favorable terms.

THE new Presbyterian Hymnal, published by the Presbyterian Board of Publication, is printed in four styles—with music, in flexible covers, and in turkey gilt; and in the same bindings, without music. The book promises to be a great success, thus far over 49,000 copies having been sold.

DURING 1873, the U. S. Military Post Library Association distributed to army posts throughout the United States some 3786 volumes of history, travel, fiction, etc.; 91,000 religious papers; 71,400 secular papers, and 7620 secular magazines. Within the same period, five temperance lodges were established by the Association, as also fourteen literary and debating societies, and nine reading clubs. It received 2324 letters relating to the moral, religious, and literary wants of the army, dispatched 2880 letters to army officers, chaplains, Indian agents, traders, educated Indians, and private soldiers, and transacted some 1700 literary commissions for army posts, officers, chaplains, and soldiers. The total receipts for the year were $20,827.64.

THEIR promised American edition of Stonehenge's Rural Sports is now ready at Porter & Coates's, in a handsome volume, illustrated with some two hundred engravings. The book has been very successful in England, 20,000 copies of its first edition having been sold, and the present work is reprinted from the eighth London edition. As before announced, new matter has been introduced into the American book, bearing more directly on our own national sports.

WE regret to record the death of Major E. C. Baird, of Pottsville, Pa., who died at Ashland, Va., on Saturday, the 14th inst. Major Baird was connected with the publishing house of H. C. Baird, of Philadelphia, the head of which was his brother, and he had served with distinction in the late Rebellion. As one of the trade, his loss will be greatly felt by all who had the pleasure of meeting in business this courteous gentleman, as well as by his many war friends and social acquaintances. He was but thirty-four at the time of his death.

MACMILLAN & Co. will shortly publish some collected papers of the late Dr. Anstie as "Contributions to the Study of Nervous Disorders, Alcoholism, and Heredity." They will be edited by Dr. Thomas Buzzare, "with some account of the lamented writer."

LORD HOUGHTON is engaged on a new edition of Keats.

"SOCIAL Pressure, Discussed by the Friends in Council," is the suggestive title of Sir Arthur Helps's new book.

SWINBURNE'S scattered papers and prefaces are to be issued in a volume of critical essays.

"THE Great Tone Poets" is the title under which an English writer, F. Crowest, will give short memoirs of the greater musical composers.

THE bi-centenary edition of Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," now in press abroad, will be a reproduction in fac-simile of the first edition, with emendations borrowed from the second.

"TEN Years of Gentleman Farming," is the subject of a new English book by several writers.

READY NOVEMBER 28.

Hardy's Far from the Madding Crowd.

16mo. Leisure-Hour Series, $1 25

In reviewing the opening chapters of this novel, which appeared anonymous in The Cornhill Magazine, The London Spectator said: "If 'Far from the Madding Crowd' is not written by George Eliot, then there is a new light among novelists. . . . It is a high intellectual feast."

In a second notice, The Spectator said: "It is a remarkable production, and it goes beyond the high and sanguine hopes with which the previous works of its author, Mr. Hardy, 'Under the Greenwood Tree' and 'A Pair of Blue Eyes,' inspired us."

The London Examiner says: "The novel is one of the most remarkable that has appeared in any magazine for years." G. W. S., in New-York Tribune, writes of it as "that very remarkable novel."

"As little like the ordinary book of travel as a slender antique vase, filled with the perfumed wine of Horatian banquets, is like the fat comfortable tea-cup of a modern breakfast-table."—New-York Tribune.

"The translation before us is executed with commendable skill. The book is a charming one, and nothing approaching it in merit has been written on the outward face of things in Russia."—Nation.

"One of the best and most brilliant books of travel that have come in our way for a long time."—New-York Evening Post.

"This truly excellent book."—Philadelphia Press.

READY DECEMBER 1.

Vers de Société.

By PRAED, LANDOR, THACKERAY, MOORE, HOLMES, CALVERLEY, SAXE, LOCKER, DOBSON, and the other recent authors in this department. Selected by Charles H. Jones. With illustrated title and vignettes, drawn by John A. Mitchell and engraved by Henry Marsh. Square 8vo, 416 pp.

"If we have ever seen a daintier piece of book-making we have forgotten it. The paper is of the usual cream tint of fine books, but where the page is printed a darker color has been laid in, and this, in turn, surrounded by a border of lavender—a color suggestive of the elegancies. On the title-page Cupid is represented with his uncle's lyre, singing his vers de société. He is before the foot-lights, the director's wand is guiding him, the orchestra accompanying him, and a lady and gentleman interested in his themes, watching him from a private box. . . . The binding, like every thing else about the book, is beautiful and entirely new."—New-York Evening Post.

"Promises to be one of the most exquisite books ever printed."—New-York Evening Mail.

SCHOOL-BOOK EXCHANGE.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., November 19th, 1874.

Since the insertion of my advertisement in the Publishers' Weekly in regard to my SCHOOL-BOOK EXCHANGE, I have received numerous letters in reference to it which I desire to answer in this manner. I wish full lists from dealers in School-Books of their unsalable stock, quantity, and condition. State plainly whether you wish to sell—if so, price; or exchange—if so, what you wish to exchange for, with full lists. Also state in detail what books are wanted, quantity, and condition, with as full lists as possible. No lists of miscellaneous books wanted, nor quotations of prices of other than the latest editions or the same as. By attention to the above, unnecessary correspondence may be avoided, and the advantages of the "Exchange" realized at once. A. H. CLARK,

Ready this Day.

A Volume of Essays by Prof. W. C. WILKINSON, entitled,

A Free Lance in the Field of Life and Letters.

1 vol. 12mo. $1.50.

Some of these articles have appeared before; others are new.

His essay on George Eliot, which forms but a small part of the book, appeared in Scribner's for October. See some of the notices received of it: "This paper, from which we have made such copious extracts, is written in a more subtle spirit of criticism and in a profounder vein of reflection than are usually found in the periodical literature of the day."

"It is an original and striking article, containing breadth of view with force of expression."—New-York Tribune.

"One of the most important essays printed of late in our magazines."—Independent.

"We have nothing but unqualified admiration of the masterly way in which Mr. Wilkinson has executed his task."—Christian at Work.

"An ably written and readable paper."—Philadelphia Enquirer.

Also

The Critical and Historical Essays of Lord Macaulay.

In one volume, elegantly bound in cloth, with fine steel portrait of the author. Price, $2.50; paper covers, $1.50.

MESSRS. S. C. GRIGGS & CO.,

25 Washington Street, Chicago.

I.

Will Publish November 20th.

A NEW EDITION OF

Old-Time Pictures and Sheaves of Rhyme.

By BENJ. F. TAYLOR. With red-line borders and eight elegant full-page illustrations. Bound in silk cloth, with lettered side, $2; full gilt edges and gilt side, $2.50.

This will be one of the most beautiful volumes issued this season, and so low in price as to be within the reach of all.

DR. J. G. HOLLAND writes: "I have spent many hours over your book. The old-time picture is crowded with verbal felicities, and the closing portion of it is as soul-stirring as the voice of a trumpet."

JOHN G. WHITTIER, in a note to the publishers, says: "It gives me pleasure to see the poems of B. F. Taylor issued by your house in a form worthy of their merit. . . . I do not know of any one who so well reproduces the home scenes of long ago. There is a quiet humor which pleases me."

The Evening Post says: "It is faultless in shape and size, print, paper, and binding, and threaded all through with pearls of beautiful imagery."

II.

Now Ready.

THE FOURTH EDITION OF

The World on Wheels.

By B. F. TAYLOR. Illustrated, . . . $1.50

The Albany Journal says: "Few carry so much of the essence of poetry into prose. Few equal him as a word-painter. He fascinates with his artistic touches, exhilarates with his sparkling humor, and subdues with his sweet pathos. His sentences glisten like gems in the sunlight."

III.

Now in Press.

THE EIGHTEENTH THOUSAND OF

Getting On in the World.

By Prof. MATHEWS. $2.25; full gilt edges, $2.50; half calf, $3.50; full calf, $5.

The universal voice of the press and the people has accorded this book a place among the classics of the ages. No one can read it carefully without benefit.

The Evangelical Messenger says: "The work, without a doubt, will ever rank with the very first of similar productions."

The Christian Era says: "No more helpful or appropriate gift for a young man or a young woman can be found in all the realm of our literature."

The Boston Transcript says: "A capital gift to any young man—far more preferable and lasting than many of the so-called holiday books."

The Episcopal Register (Phila.) says: "It is a book whose vivacity of style will acquire for it an admirer in every reader; and every young man will be the better for reading. All parents and teachers will do well to examine it."

The St. Louis Republican says: "It will be read with great benefit and pleasure by all earnest people who wish to utilize their capacities, but are at a loss how to begin their career."

IV.

Ready in a few days.

The Mishaps of Mr. Ezekiel Pelter.

By ——. 1 vol. of over 300 pages. With twelve fine full-page illustrations. Price, $1.75.

A unique book and full of humor. The scenes depicted will be found true to life, and vividly exhibit the uncertainty of the strongest circumstantial evidence. The proof-sheets have been carefully read by several among the ablest critics of the Western Press, who unite in pronouncing it a work of real genius and absorbing interest—a book which, if one begins to read, he will be loth to lay down until he has reached the end of the closing chapter.

V.

In Preparation.

Patmos; or, The Kingdom and the Patience.

By Rev. J. A. SMITH, D.D. $1.50.

Dr. HOVEY, of Newton Theological Seminary, to whom the manuscript has been submitted for critical examination, speaks of it as a work of great merit and of permanent value.

VI.

The De Corona of Demosthenes.

With Notes. By Professor M. L. D'OOGHE, of the University of Michigan. $1.75.

This work, by an accomplished scholar of large experience as a teacher, has been in preparation a long time, and it is believed by eminent professors acquainted with the author's plan, that it possesses merits for college use found in no other edition.

VII.

Authors at Work.

By E. PEBODY. 1 vol. 12mo. $1.75.

A work of great literary merit, and a worthy companion to Dr. Mathews' "Great Conversers."

VIII.

This day ready, the Third Edition of

The Great Conversers,

And other Essays. By Professor W. MATHEWS, LL.D. $1.75.

The Hartford Post says: "As an essayist, Prof. Mathews is one of the most successful of American writers."

The New-York Mail says: "These pages are crammed with interesting facts about literary men and literary work."

NEWSPAPER COMMENT UPON THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

Advertising Agency,

CONDUCTED BY

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.,
No. 41 PARK ROW,
NEW-YORK.

As the proprietors of the first and most extensive of these agencies in New-York, they are well qualified to furnish information. The details of the work transacted by the agency, and the way it is done, the perfection of the arrangements for facilitating the act of advertising by relieving the advertiser of trouble and expense, and bringing before him all the various mediums throughout the country, with the necessary knowledge pertaining to them, are given with a minuteness that leaves nothing to be desired. All the particulars respecting the character and position of a newspaper which an intending advertiser desires to know are placed before him in the most concise form.—New-York Times, June 7th, 1874.

It is indeed no surprise that their house is so prosperous, and that they are the leading advertising agents in the world. We would prefer, so far as we are concerned, to have a column or more of miscellaneous advertisements from this firm, than to receive the same amount made up of one direct from each house on their list. The commission allowed is saved us by losses, as they pay every cent they contract for, and pay it promptly, and the keeping of one open account with such a firm is much pleasanter than with the thousand persons whom they send us advertisements for. They do an honorable, legitimate business, on a business basis. If publishers, having dealings with them, want any thing in their line—and they supply every thing from a spring bodkin to a cylinder press—types, inks, and all, they fill their orders promptly, at manufacturers' prices, and we can say that we have received the best newspaper and book ink ever furnished us, and at a lower price than we ever bought for elsewhere. The Republican has had dealings with this house for over six years, and in all that time we never have had any reason to complain of our treatment.—Meriden (Conn.) Republican.

Are, without doubt, the leading Advertising Agents of the United States, and, therefore, of the world. They have, by the free, liberal, and yet well-directed use of money, built themselves up in the esteem of the leading publishers and advertisers of the continent, and by an unusual energy have succeeded in perfecting in every detail a business that more than any thing else tells of the growth and importance of the newspaper business.—Memphis (Tenn.) Appeal.

Their business has grown to be something enormous. Every paper in the country is on file at their office, and it is no uncommon thing for them to receive a mail of fifteen or twenty bushels of newspapers.—Norwalk (Conn.) Gazette.

Have completely systematized the business, and after five years' experience we can truthfully state that we find the firm to be prompt, courteous, CORRECT.—Grayville (Ill.) Independent.

They can be relied upon in every way, being worthy of implicit confidence.—New-Orleans (La.) Price Current.

While advancing their own interests, advance those also of every publisher.—South Bethlehem (Pa.) Progress.

The trustworthy business character and enterprise is well reflected.—Utica (N. Y.) Herald.

Have completely SYSTEMATIZED the business.—Griggsville (Ill.) Reflector.

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 41 Park Row, N.Y.,

for their ONE HUNDRED PAGE PAMPHLET, containing lists of 3000 newspapers and estimates, showing the cost of advertising.

JUST OUT.

Nathaniel Vaughan: A Novel. By FREDERIKA MACDONALD. 1 vol., extra cloth. 12mo, 404 pp. $1.50.

"A study of character in the law of circumstance such as even George Eliot might not have been ashamed to own as her first novel."—Westminster Review (in a notice of over a column in length).

"There is much of power and of interest in this novel. The characters are set before us by a few graphic and able touches, not as puppets, but as living beings."—Pall Mall Gazette.

"Power, eloquence, and originality characterize 'Nathaniel Vaughan' to a degree very unusual among modern novels. The shipwreck of a noble nature has seldom been more tragically portrayed, while the painfulness of the situation is relieved by the exquisite attractiveness and ultimate felicity of the heroine, and the humor of the scenes of village life."—Illustrated London News.

"It is a really artistic composition, with a sound moral expressed, though not obtruded, on the canvas. . . . A very bold and trenchant attack on Orthodoxy, and the earnestness with which it is made throughout is not marred by the grace and humor with which its lighter passages are told."—Westminster Review.

Issues of the Age; or, Consequences Involved in Modern Thought. By HENRY C. PEDDER. 1 vol., extra cloth, 188 pp. $1.50.

A Few Words About the Devil, and other Biographical Sketches and Essays. By CHARLES BRADLAUGH. 1 vol., cloth, 258 pp. $1.50.

This is rich and racy, and contains an Autobiography and fine portrait (of Mr. B., not of the Devil). The most sarcastic and humorous volume of the year.

Epidemic Delusions. By Dr. FREDERIC R. MARVIN, Professor of Psychological Medicine and Medical Jurisprudence in the New-York Free Medical College for Women. Pamphlet form, 25 cents; limp cloth, 50 cents.

"Entertaining and instructive to a high degree."—The Israelite.

"Dr. Marvin is one of the rising young thinkers. The lecture certainly exhibits depth of research and breadth of observation. . . . This brilliant lecture has been handsomely published."—Troy Press.

"A popular essay illustrating the influence of general laws in the prevalence of moral and criminal epidemics, or the fact of certain forms of vice and crime seizing on many persons at the same time. . . . The essay shows a certain freedom and even boldness of thought."—New-York Tribune.

"We bear testimony to the candor and vigor with which it sets forth important facts bearing upon some of the wildest, saddest phases of human experience."—Christian Union.

Philosophy of Spiritualism, and the Pathology and Treatment of Mediomania. Two Lectures read before the New-York Liberal Club, March 20 and 27, 1874. By the same author. Paper, 50 cents; extra cloth, $1.00.

"He gives promise of gaining a reputation in this country equal to that of Maudsley in England."—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"This is a handsomely gotten up volume, and its contents are worthy of earnest consideration."—New-Haven Palladium.

"Two able and somewhat remarkable and suggestive lectures."—Zion's Herald.

"It is decidedly sharp."—Christian Statesman.

"His book is a counterpoise to the book of Wallace."—Christian Register.

"Infinitely superior to the usual methods by which Spiritualism is attacked."—Toledo Journal.

"It is desirable in the interest of truth that the little book should be disseminated as widely as possible."—Jewish Times.

"It takes an entirely original view of the subject of Spiritualism, and of the condition called mediumistic."—Sunday Journal.

"The author's analysis of nervous and mental phenomena is sharply scientific, while his pathological theories are rational, clear, and modern."—Medical Review.

LONG-LIVED BOOKS.

Tyndall's Great Inaugural. Complete (as per manuscript). "Advancement of Science." Being the Inaugural Address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, at Belfast, August 19, 1874, by the President, JOHN TYNDALL, D.C.L., LL.D., F.R.S., with fine Portrait and Biographical Sketch. Also, a descriptive Essay by Prof. H. HELMHOLTZ, with Sir HENRY THOMPSON and Prof TYNDALL'S FAMOUS ARTICLES ON PRAYER, together on heavy tinted paper, in extra cloth $1. The same, in pamphlet form, cheaper paper, 50 cents; Inaugural and Portrait only, 25 cents.

The Martyrdom of Man. By WINWOOD READE. 12mo, cloth, 543 pp., $3.00.

"It is really a remarkable book, in which universal history is 'boiled down' with surprising skill."—Literary World.

"The martyrdom of the race appears in the influence which war, slavery, religion, and other such evils have exerted upon it."—Morning Star.

"The sketch of early Egyptian history in the first chapter is a masterpiece of historical writing. He has a style that reminds us of Macaulay."—Penn Monthly.

"Reminds us strikingly of Gibbon."—New-Haven Palladium.

"You turn over his pages with a fascination similar to that experienced in reading Washington Irving."—Inter-Ocean.

"A tragedy of many acts. . . . Like groups in some grand pageant, the procession of empires rolls by."—Southern Magazine.

"But in his narration of events the writer conforms closely to the authorities."—Chicago Tribune.

"Whoever would be jostled into attention and led into unwonted channels of thought will find this volume full of interest and often of delight."—New Covenant.

"The book is printed on clear white paper, from large type, and is a handsome volume."—New-Bedford Standard.

The Safest Creed, and Twelve other Recent Discourses of Reason. By O. B. FROTHINGHAM. Cloth, beveled, tinted paper, 12mo. New Edition. $1.50.

"Manifest deep thought, thorough conviction, and great ability."—Philadelphia Press.

"None of his contemporaries can approach him in elegance of diction."—Albany Evening Journal.

"On what is human, natural, practical, useful, and liberal, he is very conclusive, instructive, and gratifying, and gems of this kind are sparkling on every page of 'The Safest Creed.'"—Boston Investigator.

"To the investigator of early religious history, who can view all evidence without prejudice. . . . entertainment undeniably fresh."—Literary World.

"A curious, learned, and painfully suggestive book. It is evident that especial pains is taken to deal delicately with the subject."—Chicago Journal.

"The attempt is to show that the cross, as a religious emblem, is much older than Jesus Christ, and to trace in the religions of to-day the relics of ancient passionate worship. Much research and deep scholarship are displayed, and the work is high-toned, but is not designed for immature minds."—Portland Transcript.
